And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

"Why" would seem to be the question on everyone's mind since the shooting death of Robert Kennedy last week — another link in a long chain of disasters. If his were the only political death of our times the question would be easier to answer as it could just be blamed on the ancient hate between the Jew and the Arab.

But after this many political assassinations one must assume that these deaths are a product of our times. Everyone or everything from the man on the street to the Supreme Court has been blamed from one quarter or another.

If we were to try and single out any one thing to blame, we would have to say that it is the failure of the great majority of our people to take over the leadership of our nation, from the grass roots level on up.

Most of the good, hard working people never seem to find the time or the inclination to become involved. They all seem too busy earning a living and enjoying the fruits of their labors.

It would seem to be the old situation of "Let George Do It." The only problem is that we are beginning to find out that we do not like the way George is doing it.

Too many people do not take the time to raise their children like they should, they do not take the time to run their schools, their cities, their counties, their state or their nation as they should.

Not enough of our people put forth the effort to build up the strength of our churches to the point that they can be the guiding force in our land. We tend to blame the nation and its leaders for swaying away from God but if this is the case then it is the people's fault and not the fault of our leaders or our nation.

We are blessed in this country with a system of government that will truly represent the wishes of its people, but it can only work that way when the real majority becomes concerned.

We were pleased to learn last week that Bob Clifton was elected vice president of the Texas Future Farmers of America. This is quite an honor not only for Bob, but for Hamlin as well.

We wish him the best of luck in his efforts to gain the office of President of this organization next month in Lubbock.

Not only is this an honor for Bob but it is also an opportunity. Through either the vice president or president's office Bob will have the chance to gain an education that our schools have no way of teaching.

With the end of school we received the following note from Supt. C. F. Cook that we are passing along.

The 1967-68 school year has passed, with many successes, as well as, many problems. The successes out weighed the problems, therefore, the past year was a good year. The students and teachers did a wonderful job in making this a pleasant year.

I would like to express my appreciation to each person in our fine community for the cooperation given the school board, faculty and myself during this year. I have enjoyed working with you good people.

The principals, Mr. Newberry, Mr. Carlton, Miss Murphree and Mrs. Smith, have been so much help in making our school a good school. I want to thank each of these fine people for their cooperation. Their leadership was wonderful.

The faculty of any school is the backbone of your school; therefore, the cooperation and leadership they have given have added much to the success of this school year.

The student body this year was a very outstanding group. With such fine young people to work with, all phases of school work are an enjoyment to the principals, teachers and administrators. Therefore, I want to thank all the students of our school for your fine cooperation. It has been a joy to work with this group.

Thanks again for your cooperation.

SANTA FE CARS DERAILED — Four cars were derailed about five miles east of here on the Santa Fe line Thursday about 1 p.m. Two gondolas loaded with copper ore were tipped over, spilling the contents of one in the right of way. Cause of the accident was believed to been a rail which broke under one of the cars. One car loaded with wheat, not shown, lost the rear wheels, shown above between the two gondolas. The wheat car came to a stop some distance up the track.

Chicken Supper Frees Little League of Debt

A debt of two years standing was retired by the Hamlin Little League after the Chicken Supper held Saturday night in the primary cafeteria.

Rev. Billy Bush, president, said the organization realized about $300 from the supper. This was used with an additional $75 to absolve the debt. Two years ago the debt was set at $1075.

Rev. Bush said that now the organization was debt free and the Little League could look to improvements or other necessary items.

Money for the operation of the baseball program is derived from sponsors, money taken when a bucket is passed at the games and from donations. This was the second year to have a chicken supper.

Current sponsors are Joe Hudspeth's, Feagan Oil, Pied Piper Mills, Mac's Supermarket and Howard Drug. Other sponsors would be welcomed, Rev. Bush said.

In citing the needs for the program, Rev. Bush mentioned that equipment and utilities are expensive. One month's utility bill was $94 and this expense has been in the past as much as $104 in 1966. Bills, at minimum cost, are $18.60 a dozen. Also 26 light bulbs are having to be replaced this year.

Collections at the games average from $7 to $10, he said.

Jaycee-ettes Making Plans For Festival

Contestants are being sought for the beauty contest during the annual Fourth of July Festival being sponsored by the Hamlin Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes.

Little girls, ages three through six will compete in the younger division.

The teenage division will include freshmen in high school through college freshmen. Contestants may contact Mrs. Muri Don Smith, Jaycee-ette president, SP 4-1138.

Mrs. Delton Jackson and Mrs. Scotty Knox will contact sponsors for the girls. Cost of sponsoring contestants will be $2.

Girls will be judged in swim suits. There will be no talent competition.

The younger group will compete at 6 p.m. and the older girls will be on stage at 8 p.m.

Ewell Mackey is the Jaycee chairman for the Festival.

Wheat Harvest Picks Up Here

Tuesday was the first full day of sunshine since the wheat harvest began, lowering the moisture content of the area's wheat considerably.

Rain and threatening weather have plagued those trying to get the wheat in, slowing the harvest from the normal pace.

While hail and very high winds have been in the area, so far Hamlin has escaped the severe weather with the exception of one strip running north and south just east of here that was hit about 10 days ago with hail.

At Moore Elevator, officials estimate the crop to be 80 to 85 percent complete.

The price dropped this week to $1.25 per bushel from $1.30 last week.

Yields are holding up although some four to 10 per cent is being lost because of damage from weather conditions.

The play night will be held Saturday evenings through Aug. 31. The public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

Oil Tax Hearing Set Here June 25

The Board of Trustees for the Hamlin Independent School District set the date for the annual Oil Tax Hearing for June 25, according to Supt. C. F. Cook. The date was set at the regular meeting of the board Monday night.

Named to serve on the Board of Equalization were Noel Weaver, Sam Ferguson and Kenneth Scott.

Velanne Rowland left Wednesday for a month's stay at Camp Davis at Las Vegas, N. Mex.

Mrs. Mac Reid, president of the Hamlin Business and Professional Women's Club, will attend the state convention and workshop Friday through Sunday in Austin.

Plans for Annual Rodeo Next Week Completed

The Hamlin Riding Club will have a new feature added this year for the annual Amateur Rodeo to be staged here June 20-22.

For the first time an open horse show will be included. The show with halter and performance classes will be at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 22. Bryan Wasson, president of the Riding Club, is handling details for the show. He said that the judge, Bob Collins of Zephyr, is an approved AQHA judge and well known among cutting horse men. He frequently judges Appaloosa shows, he added.

In addition to the halter classes there will be western pleasure, reining, pole bending, barrel racing, roping and junior and senior cutting in the performance classes.

Ribbons and rosettes will be awarded in each class. Trophies will be given to the Grand Champion and All Around Champion.

A parade will open the rodeo festivities Thursday, June 20 at 4 p.m. The procession will originate on Southwest Fifth street near the Pony League Ball Park and proceed down Fifth to South Central. Riding clubs and individual horsemen are invited.

Also invited to have parade entries are local clubs and organizations and businesses. Anyone wishing to enter the parade may call SP 4-1866. Bicycles and children's entries are also welcome.

Wasson has appointed the following persons to be responsible for the various phases of the rodeo: Ed Branscum and Billy McIlwain, general rodeo chairmen; Mrs. Billy McIlwain, rodeo secretary; Mrs. Wasson, parade chairman; Mrs. Bill Feagan, Queen's contest and flag chairman; and Mrs. Kenneth Riddle, trophies for horse show.

Rodeo events will include bareback bronc; calf roping; calf roping for 50 and older; barrel race; ribbon roping and bull riding. For the younger set there is a flag race for 12 and under and calf scramble for six and under and from six to 12.

Rodeo Headquarters will be Hamlin Radio and TV. Mrs. McIlwain, secretary, may be

Merchants Planning Rodeo Sidewalk Sale

Plans are being made by local merchants for a gala sidewalk sale to be held in conjunction with the opening day of The Riding Club Rodeo. The old fashion bargain day will be next Thursday, June 20, and is being sponsored by the Retail Trade Committee of the Hamlin BCD.

The big, all-day affair is expected to be marked by some real old time money saving specials with the items placed right out on the sidewalk where the crowds can have fun just beating their neighbors to the bargains.

Many merchants are buying goods just for this special day while others will be spending the next few days going through their store marking down bargains for the event.

Local School Faced With Number of Vacancies

A number of teaching vacancies exist in the Hamlin School faculty for this coming fall, according to Supt. C. F. Cook.

The vacancies are a result of resignations at the end of the current term of school.

Vacancies created by the resignations include: biology teacher, assistant football and track coach; physics and chemistry teacher, American history teacher, all in high school; and two positions in junior high school. These are history and mathematics teachers, with one to be assistant coach.

Teachers to resign are: Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hughes, he was biology teacher, head track coach and assistant football coach and Mrs. Hughes taught reading in the lower grades.

They are moving to Hereford where he will be first assistant coach and she will teach reading in the elementary school.

Mr. Harold Williams, veteran science teacher, announced his retirement this year. He has taught physics, chemistry and general science.

Also in high school, Mrs. Buenger Dickson, history and Spanish teacher, resigned with the moving of her husband to Abilene.

In junior high school, Don Drummond, history teacher and assistant coach has asked to be relieved of his duties.

Queen Contest Entries Being Sought Now

Entries for the Queen's Contest during the annual Hamlin Riding Club's Amateur Rodeo are now being taken by Mrs. Bill Feagan. Deadline is noon Monday, June 17. Entries should be accompanied by a recent picture.

All girls 13 through 19 years of age who are not married are eligible to compete.

The requirements are to ride in the parade; dress in western attire; participate in grand entry and be introduced in the arena each night.

The winner will receive a bouquet of flowers and a belt buckle. She will represent the club in other activities throughout the year. Second and third place winners will be given gift certificates.

Merchants and businesses who wish to sponsor a girl may contact Mrs. Feagan at SP 4-1616 or Mrs. John Johnson at SP 4-1606. Cost of sponsoring an entry is $3 which includes the price of the contestant's ribbon.

Cheryl Gibson, current queen will set the pattern the girls will ride.

Reba Jackson Named To Soloist Hall of Fame

Reba Jackson, recent Hamlin High School graduate, has been named to America's High School Soloist Hall of Fame. Announcement of her selection was made in the June-July issue of The School Musician Director and Teacher magazine, official organ of the American School Band Directors Association; and Phi Beta Mu, National Bandmasters Fraternity.

She will receive an engraved certificate and a pin illustrating the official medallion of the Hall of Fame.

In the magazine article Reba's accomplishments and activities are noted.

Reba is an outstanding saxophonist and chose the alto saxophone as her solo instrument because of the influence of a cousin who was a former saxophone soloist. She has won a first division rating in every regional solo contest she has entered since she was in the seventh grade. She competed in the Texas State Competitions four times. Her saxophone quartet won a first division rating at the state level this year.

She has held first chair in the Summer Music Camp and has been prominent in the All-District Band for four years. She played first chair alto sax in the stage band and high school band and was recipient of the John Phillip Sousa Band award.

Also a fine pianist, she accompanied many of her fellow band members in solo competition. She is also accompanist with the First Baptist Church youth choir and plays piano at Neinda Baptist Church.

In addition to being vice president of the band, Reba was reporter of the Senior Class, a Spanish Club officer and a member of National Honor Society.

One Angry Citizen

Let Congress levy a tax on cats, and any cat owner could challenge the constitutionality of the law in the courtroom.

But suppose you have no cat. Could you still challenge the law, simply because you feel Congress is getting out of line? May any angry citizen raise the issue of constitutionality, just on general principles?

Ordinarily, no. The right to challenge the constitutionality of a law is limited to those who are directly involved. Unless you have some personal stake in the matter, you lack what the law calls "standing" to sue the government.

Why not let anybody sue? Partly because there might be a court-clogging flood of lawsuits. And partly because basic constitutional questions might be decided without the safeguard of having the arguments made by persons motivated by a real interest in the outcome.

What kind of a personal interest must you have to bring such a case?

The most obvious kind is financial. As a cat owner in the example above, you would have a direct interest — because the tax would come out of your pocketbook. Likewise, a property owner was held qualified to challenge a zoning law, because it would cut the dollar value of his land.

Even if your interest is not financial, it may still be weighty enough to justify a suit. Thus, a court allowed the complaint of two trolley riders against the government for permitting music on trolleys. Even though the music did not cost them any money, it could cost them valuable peace of mind.

On the other hand, your interest — financial or otherwise — won't support a suit if it is just too trivial. A taxpayer's attack on a federal appropriation bill was thrown out, because his stake in the total federal budget was held too tiny to really matter.

Nor can you ordinarily sue when your complaint is purely theoretical. In one case a motorist, although given only a mild sentence for drunk driving, challenged the validity of the state traffic law. He argued that, under this law, the judge could have imposed a sentence so harsh as to be "cruel and unusual."

But he got nowhere. The court said he had no standing to complain about what might have happened—but didn't.

June Is Month To File for Medicare

June is the month for all persons who will turn 65 in the next three months to file applications for social security benefits and enroll for Medicare.

Herb Culp, social security representative, said today that applicants who bring with them evidence of their age and of their 1967 earnings when they file their applications will have their claims handled more efficiently and quickly.

Original birth certificates or baptismal certificates, recorded early in life, are the best evidence of age. When no such document is available, other records of age made early in life may be accepted.

See Culp at Bd. of City Development in Hamlin on Tue., June 18 at 10 o'clock. If unable to meet a representative on a field trip, call at the Abilene office, room 2321 of the Federal Building. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and until 7 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Gus Young Gets Math Fellowship

Gus Young, Hamlin High School math teacher, has received a National Science Foundation Fellowship and will attend West Texas University June 22 - Aug. 16.

He will take two advanced math courses.

"Whosoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON

Something unusual happened over in Zurich, Switzerland at a theater. A man named Anton Sergeivitch Tartarov gave a piano concert. The billboards said that Tartarov was a great Russian pianist, internationally known. And at the theater Tartarov received a standing ovation and cheers and shouts for encores from the two thousand people present.

This concert ended a little different than most of them do, however. When the crowd finished cheering and the impresario stepped up to speak, he told those present that Tartarov was not really Tartarov, that there was no such person, that he was not really Russian but Swiss, and to further complicate matters that the numbers he had played were not the announced numbers of Beethoven, Prokofiev and Liszt but the arrangements of the piano player who was named Jean-Jacques Hauser!

Well, the crowd loved him just the same and still wanted the encore. He gave it to them and was glad to do it. The man who was responsible for the whole show told the people that he "invented" Tartarov to give Hauser an audience free of prejudices.

The story is uncommon, but it shouldn't be. It should be an everyday experience. You see, most of us who think we are common people have some uncommon talent that we can do well — sometimes better than anybody else in the whole world!

And that brings us around to the Galilean. He brought out the greatness in common man. Someone has said that is what got Him placed on that Cross. But He accepted men free of the prejudice that we so often have. He lifted the common man, made him important, even made him great — as a servant.

If you are wondering why the Galilean did this you must remember that He was Himself a "common man." He was a Carpenter, He made things with His hands. Judging by other evidence, He took pride in His work and people appreciated His craftsmanship. And look at the close followers He selected. Everyone of them were common people!

One day, however, this Carpenter laid down the tools with which He worked on wood and picked up the tools with which He worked on the hearts of men. He went to the common man, spoke a message they "heard gladly", put hope and desire and ambition and love in the heart of the common man. And they haven't been the same since.

The crowd found that even an "unknown" can have greatness. This is exactly what the Galilean Carpenter has been teaching since the earth started spinning — FIVE STAR FEATURES

FANDANGLE AT ALBANY — A theatrical project involving almost every family in the cow-country town of Albany, the Fort Griffin Fandangle presents descendants of pioneers recreating in song and dance the times when their forebears were establishing the Texas cattle industry. Performers, Larry Macon, Mary Spurquin, Reva Macon, and Gary Smothers, are shown with the Fandangle emblem — the Longhorn steer to symbolize the long memory of a pioneer past; a fiddle and bow to symbolize the music and merriment the show creates in the hearts of all who see it. The Fandangle will be presented in the outdoor Prairie Theatre at Albany on June 20, 21, 22, and June 27, 28, 29.

Congressman Explains Provisions Of Omnibus Crime Control Act

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — On August 25, 1959, I introduced a Resolution in the Congress which would permit two companies of Marines to patrol the streets of Washington, which, of course is a Federal City, in conjunction with the police.

Again on February 26, 1963 and July 14, 1965, the same Resolution was introduced and each of these was referred to the Armed Services Committee where it was opposed by the Defense Department. In fact, Departmental reports, including the District of Columbia Commissioners, were adverse to the passage of this measure.

As time went on it is common knowledge as to what happened and finally, the Marines and Soldiers were called in to quell riots and looting.

On three different occasions the House of Representatives passed legislation which would have the effect of nullifying many of the Supreme Court's decisions affecting arrest and prosecution of criminals. The Senate did not act.

At last, they have done so, and last week a bill was passed which has as its purpose to override certain Court judgments which have handicapped law enforcement and providing assistance to police enforcement in the States.

Title I of the Bill provides planning grants and actions to State and local law enforcement agencies to develop and strengthen the total service. Title II of the Bill seeks to give authority back to the trial courts that they may not be handicapped by these decisions which have given encouragement to the criminal as against the public interest. The tendency of the Federal courts, and especially the Supreme Court, to disrupt the finality of State court decisions has eroded respect for law and diminished the fear of punishment.

The Omnibus Crime Control Act already bears the imprint of many restrictions changes and additions. If America is to be made safe for its citizens, this is a long step in the right direction.

Cotton Pickin's

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

Charlotte, N. C., June 6 — The Rolling Plains producer delegate on the Board of Trustees of Cotton Producers Institute is optimistic over the outlook for cotton.

"We are turning the corner after a few bad years," Charles Stenholm, cotton farmer from Stamford, Texas observed at a meeting of CPI Trustees here.

"While there are many unsolved problems," he added, "more acreage is being planted, markets are continuing to expand, and cotton research and promotion is at a record level."

Financed by $1-per-bale payments by farmers, the CPI program is expected to be even larger in 1969 than in 1968, he explained, since more acreage will be in production. The CPI budget for 1968 is $8 million.

"We are pleased with results in the short time this program has been operating. The support cotton growers are giving this effort to increase their profits shows their confidence in cotton and its ability to compete," the Stenholm said.

"All of us recognize, on the other hand, that we can't expect these markets to come easily. The battle is a never ending one, our competitors have scored some victories, but we are determined to gain a larger share of the textile market for cotton."

Stenholm and Aubrey Lockett, seed breeder from Vernon, who are the area's Trustees, were advised that the purpose of the meeting was to receive staff reports on 1968 activities, develop guidelines for the staff in preparing the 1969 program, and view at first hand the manufacture of cotton and man-made fibers into textiles.

The American Textile Manufacturers Institute was host at a reception and dinner for the group tonight, and has arranged tours of Springs Mills and other area textile operations Wednesday. A tour of the Cannon Mills, Swink Plant, at Salisbury is scheduled Thursday morning.

George Buck, Memphis, Council research director, pointed out that the $2.7 million allocated by CPI for research in 1968 is enabling concentration on breakthroughs in such important areas as all-cotton durable press fabrics, product development, and lowering cotton production costs.

While the amount cotton producers were able to provide for research is three times that of 1967, he noted, it represents only about 10% of the total funds estimated to be available for cotton research from all sources and agencies in the U. S. Furthermore, he emphasized, it is estimated that "a research program fully adequate to meet cotton's needs in cost reduction and product development should be about three times this total effort."

Main objectives of the CPI research program, he said, are to: (1) reduce the cost of producing, processing, handling, and merchandising cotton; and (2) improve the quality of the fiber and products made from it.

Research sponsored by growers through CPI, he explained, is pinpointing key problems and opportunities in the above areas and has already led to some important achievements. Among these, he cited the development of all-cotton durable press fabrics with high abrasion resistance and other desirable characteristics, a new systemic insecticide, and significant advances in fiber quality measurement.

Light Bulbs... 9¢ at your Texaco Dealer.

Just drive into your participating Texaco Dealer's and you can get a 100-watt Ken-Rad light bulb for 9¢ when you fill 'er up with at least 8 gallons of Sky Chief or Fire Chief gasoline. Get another of these long-lasting light bulbs each time you come into a Texaco Dealer where you see the Light Bulb sign.

Why is your Texaco Dealer saving you money on light bulbs? It's his way of celebrating the arrival of money-saving Sky Chief, the brand-new gasoline that can drive down the cost of driving. New Sky Chief keeps harmful deposits from building up on engine valves better than any other leading gasoline. With fewer deposits, you can get better mileage—and that can save you money. The chance of an expensive engine repair job is much less, too. So drive in for a light bulb, fill up with new Sky Chief—it can drive down the cost of driving.

Jones County Included In Nutrition Survey

The National Nutrition Survey in Texas will begin in the first of 26 randomly selected counties on June 18, it was announced today by the State Survey Director, Dr. William J. McGanity, University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston; and Dr. Fratis L. Duff, Health Planning Director of the State Health Department. Haskell and Jones Counties are the two counties selected in this area.

Texas and Louisiana have been the two states selected to initiate the National Survey requested and authorized by the Congress under the Partnership of Health Amendments of 1967. The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare has been given the responsibility for carrying out the survey at the National level and the Nutrition Program of the United States Public Health Service has been designated to develop the Nation wide program and to report its findings to the Congress.

The objective of this Comprehensive Nutrition Study is to identify the prevalence, magnitude, location and cause of malnutrition and related health problems in the United States. It is being carried out in partnership with State Health Department by supporting local resources principally those of medical schools and research institutes. A key objective will be to develop within each state resources and capability to strengthen the supervision of self-help programs, to evaluate the effectiveness of action programs which are directed to correct those deficiencies found, and to develop preventive programs. Three Local Youths Attending Camp At Midlothian

The Hamlin Salvation Army Service Unit Committee sent three Hamlin boys to Camp Hoblitzelle for a week's vacation this Monday, according to the 1968 chairman, Erma Wallace.

The boys are Russell Cary, David Tyler, and Dean Hernandez.

They will go to Midlothian June 9 via car and return by bus June 16.

"It's a real opportunity for the kids who have never been to a real camp. At Hoblitzelle they enjoy boating, archery, horseback riding, swimming, crafts, movies, sports, worship services . . . you name it, and Camp Hoblitzelle has it."

Operated year round by the Salvation Army, the 370 acre camp near Dallas offers specially selected youngsters and families a free vacation with all the modern facilities of a country club.

Mrs. Wallace said all organized activities are supervised by coaches and counselors. The campers are housed in brick redwood cabins, and receive well-balanced meals at the camp's own dining room.

Camp Hoblitzelle was built through generous gifts of more than 100 individuals in Texas. The Salvation Army operates the camp for the benefit of children and families who would otherwise not have the opportunity to enjoy camp life.

not interested in it, but I have begun to have my doubts.

Maybe we've got it backwards. Maybe machines should think and people should work. You other people, anyway. Me and the college students have got other things to do.

I don't know that machines could do a better job of thinking, but it's hard to see how they could do any worse.

You take a world where the more civilized we get the less secure we are, and you begin to wonder.

At least with machines in control they could be blamed instead of us.

I can see the militant fringe of college students now saying, "We've got to overhaul the machines from top to bottom. They're sick. They're using the same cogs, the same gears, the same old principles, producing the same type of air-conditioning at the same monotonous temperature we've lived in for years. In fact, the principle of the internal combustion engine itself is rotten to the core, and that goes for electric motors and windmills too, and jets are even worse. What the world needs is more monkey wrenches."

Understand though I'm not trying to offend college students. I don't want any of them invading my office out here. I wish they'd leave a notice on the door saying they've wrecked the place. Otherwise I'd never know they'd been here. My office, I have to report, under the standards of the Federal Government, with its tin roof, plain concrete floor, littered roll-top desk, cardboard boxes for file cabinets, and homemade fireplace, is considered sub-standard.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Neinda Philosopher Wants Machines to Do the Thinking to See If They Can Do Any Better

Editors note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One starts out gloomy this week, but apparently recovers his sense of humor.

Dear editor:

I was holding a copy of a newspaper in front of me, I don't remember now where I got it, it's not important, but I was suddenly tired of reading the news.

I don't know why, it was just I guess that it was averaging two crises to every inside page and twelve on the front, just as the last one I found did and like the next one will too. I don't know whether the world has more crises now than it used to or whether they're just better reported, but nonetheless I was tired of reading about them and started reading the ads.

HEIDENHEIMER'S

THE HAMLIN HERALD
Hamlin, Texas, Thursday, June 13, 1968

AUSTIN. — Sitting in special session to approve appropriations and tax bills for the fiscal year beginning September 1, the House and Senate began deliberations on how to distribute some $2,500,000 in appropriations.

When that little problem is taken care of, the Legislature will worry about one that's potentially more disastrous, politically. Raising taxes or passing new ones comes next. They must raise the $125-130,000,000 difference between what the state will have and what it will need.

Gov. John Connally's special session opened on schedule June 4 in a storybook setting: The newly-elected Democratic nominee for governor, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, presided over the Senate, and the newly - elected Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, Speaker Ben Barnes, held the House controls.

Governor Connally spelled out basically this tax program: A one-per-cent raise in the state sales tax rate to three per cent with the bulk of the increase going to cities. Sales tax base would be extended to cover cigarettes, other tobacco products, and such services as haircuts and beauty treatments, laundry and dry cleaning, repairs, telephone and telegraph, and auto parking ($76,800,000).

A $3,200,000 cut in taxes on the gross receipts of telephone companies was incorporated in his recommendations, same being more than offset by the inclusion of telephone service in the three per cent sales tax.

A boost in the auto sales tax rate to three per cent ($30,600,000).

Legislation of liquor-by-the-drink in small bottles, with each bottle individually taxed, and private clubs assessed a 10 per cent gross receipts tax ($14,500,000).

Transfer of $7,500,000 from the operators and chauffeurs license fund to the general fund spending pocket.

A realty transfer stamp tax ($1,000,000).

Initial reaction to the $127,200,000 package was generally cool or downright unfriendly although many legislators during the LCB controversy.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, chairman of the sub-committee and the full committee, reported to the committee on the first day of the session, and the reaction indicated that one major problem could be whether to allow possession of alcoholic beverages and private clubs in dry areas.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio, a supporter of liquor-by-the-drink, asked the committee to reject the sub-committee's report because it did not include those prohibitions which he thinks would provide incentive for liquor-by-the-drink.

Cory, however, closed the meeting before Johnson could get the record vote he sought.

Committee report included 31 points, many of them recommendations to change the law.

Main recommendations included prohibiting legislators from practicing before the LCB; opening all LCB records on violations and complaints to the public; a minimum of 50 members for a private club; a fine for parents whose children are convicted on liquor violations twice; immediate sale of confiscated liquor; increasing license and permit fees; increasing LCB agents' salaries; and providing graduated penalties for repeated liquor violations.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Governor Connally named and the Senate confirmed Calvin Wesch of Kermit as 109th district attorney for Andrews, Winkler and Crane Counties. He succeeds the late Don Nugent.

Governor also appointed Judge Thomas A. Curtis as district attorney at Amarillo for Armstrong and Potter Counties.

Dr. L. Harland Ford, executive director of the Region XIX Education Service at El Paso, was named assistant commissioner of the Texas Education Agency for teacher education and instructional services, effective August 1.

NEW LIFE ON DEATH ROW — The 26 men on death row in Huntsville, and others around the state, now have a new chance at life.

U. S. Supreme Court has ruled that the death penalty cannot be imposed by a jury from which persons opposed to capital punishment have been excluded. Under the Texas system a potential juror may be excused if he states that he is opposed to the death sentence in a capital crime. Under this new ruling however, such persons can't be excluded, and according to State Attorney General Crawford Martin, "it will probably do away with the death penalty." A jury must unanimously agree on capital punishment in a case for it to be imposed.

It is presumed that the court's decision also will permit those people now under sentence of death to appeal in federal court. Ruling, however, did not specify whether the decision would cover persons already sentenced. "I seriously doubt," Attorney General Martin commented, "if the courts will let a man be executed until the question is decided."

were plainly waiting to see what the folks back home thought of it. Outlook was dimmest of all for the mini-bottle bill. Even many liquor-by-the-drink advocates didn't like it, but they admitted that from their standpoint it was "better than nothing." Hearings on it were started this week by committees of both the House and Senate.

House revenue and tax committee is considering Connally's omnibus tax bill. Speaker Ben Barnes, who is not committed to the Connally proposals, apparently will put them to a floor vote in the House next week unless something better is substituted.

Barnes warned that $150,000 in new revenue may be needed if a federal income tax surcharge is passed by congress, slashing state purchasing power and thereby cutting the state's sales tax rate.

After all tax items are taken care of Connally has promised to open the legislative hopper to such other issues as the lawmakers desire — if there's time left in the 30-day special session.

LIQUOR-LAW REVISION — Core of the Legislature's revision of the Liquor Control Act probably will be the recommendations of the liquor-law-revision sub - committee of the House State Affairs Committee, Speaker Ben Barnes turned the problem over to the sub-committee during the LCB controversy.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, chairman of the sub-committee and the full committee, reported to the committee on the first day of the session, and the reaction indicated that one major problem could be whether to allow possession of alcoholic beverages and private clubs in dry areas.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio, a supporter of liquor-by-the-drink, asked the committee to reject the sub-committee's report because it did not include those prohibitions which he thinks would provide incentive for liquor-by-the-drink.

Another comforting scripture recalling God's love toward us is this: "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand." Psalm 139:17, 18.

It is comforting and pleasant to let our thoughts wing upward to verses like these.

We invite you to read your Bible and attend church this week.

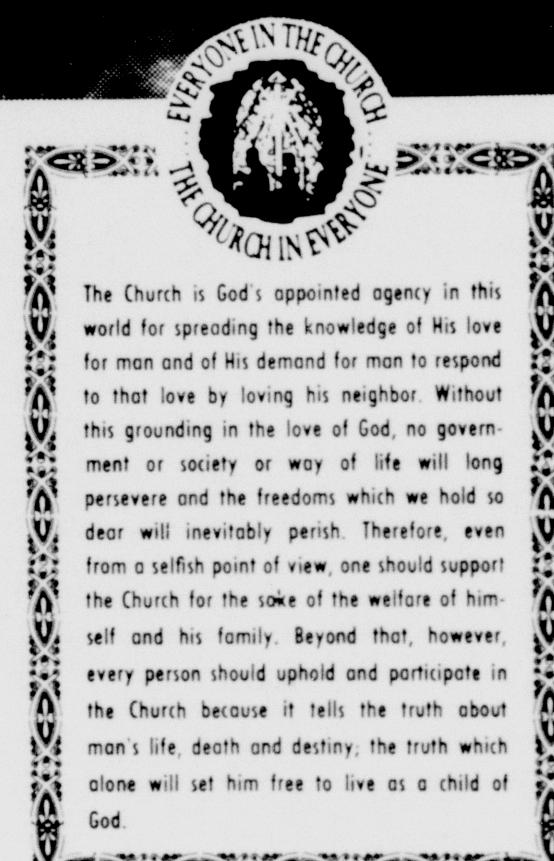

"If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea: even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me." Psalms 139:9, 10.

What a wonderful promise. No matter where we go or what we do, God is willing to lead us and is there to help us.

Another comforting scripture recalling God's love toward us is this: "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand." Psalm 139:17, 18.

It is comforting and pleasant to let our thoughts wing upward to verses like these.

We invite you to read your Bible and attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

NEWS FROM . . .

Sylvester

By MRS. R. M. BABB

Just any direction you drive you will meet a grain truck. Seems every one is getting their grain out.

Mrs. Homer Pursley and Mrs. W. B. Brown were in Abilene on business Monday.

Debbie Wilder and her cousin Mark Wilder of Dallas are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Wilder and attended the Vacation Bible School this last week at the Baptist Church.

The Vacation Bible School closed Friday morning with Commencement and a picnic at Hamlin Park. We had a real good school and those that didn't attend missed something!

59th Anniversary of Father's Day

The idea for "Father's Day" came to a housewife one morning in 1909 as she was washing dishes while her son gurgled happily beside her in a high-chair. It was her way of honoring her father who raised her and five motherless brothers.

According to Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, Father's Day would be the way to fulfill the need of calling attention to Father's place in the home, training the children, the safeguarding of the marriage tie, the protection of womanhood and childhood.

Since 1910 Father's Day has been celebrated on the third Sunday in June, and so this year, 1968, marks the 59th anniversary of the first Father's Day.

It was also Mrs. Dodd who selected the rose as the official Father's Day flower.

Bro. Larry Baker of Abilene filled the pulpit at the Baptist Church the past two Sundays.

Danna Thompson and Brenda Kiser are attending Twirling School in Cisco this week. Brenda will be a cheer leader in McCaulley School and Danna will be cheer leader for Trent School.

W. O. Reeves had surgery last Thursday morning in Hamlin Hospital and is doing real well.

Mrs. John Edwards is still in Hamlin Hospital at this writing and isn't feeling too well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown visited with her father, Mr. Woodson, in Holiday Lodge Sunday, then drove to the Hamlin Hospital to visit with friends there.

Mrs. Dan Kidd was able to attend Sunday School and church last Sunday. It had been some time since she had been able to come after breaking her hip then later her arm.

Recent guests in the home of Mrs. Tom Routh were: her sister, Grace York, and her granddaughter, Judy Parker of Corcoran, Calif., a grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Shelburne of Nashville, Tenn., and a daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown. Sarah Lou, Betsy and Bill of Midland. They all attended the June 2 marriage of Mrs. Routh's granddaughter, Sharon Anne Shelburne, and Andrew Russell in Snyder.

New Grooming Aids to Enhance Dad's Self-Image

Is the rugged, virile American father becoming a sissy?

Nobody wondered when he began using a fragrant after-shave lotion, or a modest squirt of scented aerosol deodorant. But recently he has gone in for face tone-up masks, body rub, hair stay with protein and even a face-tan foam available in three shades — deep tan, bronze and ruddy. Over 150 firms have blossomed which produce some 257 men's colognes, 164 after-shave lotions, 103 soaps for men, 45 hair sprays, not to mention an indeterminate number of bubble baths, pore cleansers, and skin moisturizers.

Can it be that the emasculation of the American Dad, long predicted by eminent psychologists, has actually happened?

Frank Love, director of sales for Kanon products, whose firm recently introduced eight new Konserver grooming aids — Swedish for "conserve" — flatly denies that American fathers are becoming soft. He asserts: "If a man is sure enough of himself he can do as he damn pleases — and that goes for how he smells or how he takes care of his looks or anything else. The men buying these products are ordinary businessmen, tough and aggressive about getting ahead. They know it makes economic good sense to maintain a vigorous healthy appearance."

This executive believes that interest in new skin, hair and body treatment products marks a healthy change in men's attitudes toward themselves. He points out that for years the American businessman has ignored his physical resources, or what's worse, squandered them. As a result, heart trouble, ulcers, back-ache, insomnia and over-weight have become badges of occupational devotion.

"All that these new treatment products mean is that the American Dad has decided to stop taking a self-administered physical beating. Instead, he's beginning to believe he's worth taking care of. And he's right," Love says.

Despite his dollar interest in good grooming, this expert does not believe that grooming aids by themselves are sufficient to maintain a virile healthy appearance.

"Certainly a spa bath can relax a man and a body rub can refresh him and he'll even glow with health if he uses a face tan

Put Dad On a Bicycle, Keep Home-Loving Gifts Have Him Healthy Longer, Is Advice of Heart-Specialists

The eminent cardiologist Dr. Paul Dudley White had some sage advice recently for an over-stuffed, over-transistorized America: "I'd like to put everybody on bicycles . . . not once in awhile, but regularly as a routine. It's a good way to prevent heart disease."

To that Dr. W. W. Bauer, former Director of the Bureau of Health Education of the American Medical Association, added: "The bicycle is one of the great unappreciated vehicles for good, wholesome exercise that can be continued to a considerable age."

Are they suggesting that Dad withdraw from television to pedal a bike?

You bet they are, and hundreds and hundreds of health and fitness authorities echo that advice.

If you've hesitated to get a bicycle because you might feel self-conscious on wheels at your age, forget it! According to the Bicycle Institute of America some 60 million Americans are getting back on bicycles for a variety of reasons, and nearly a quarter of those millions are adults who have come to realize that there is more to life than traffic-choked cities, television and the movie around the corner.

The popularity of family vacation cycling is definitely a phenomenon of the 60's, and it is growing each year with more and more organized groups. The attractiveness of the bike vacation has been brought about by easy-to-pedal, light-weight adult-gear bicycles which, along with the standard middleweights and hi-risers for the kids, can be placed in the trunk of the car with room to spare. With the addition of cart carriers, as many as four bikes can be attached safely in minutes.

Why a bike vacation for your family? An article in a recent issue of Natural History Magazine says that most visitors to national parks seldom scratch the surface of the scenic, pristine areas available to them, simply because they confine themselves to the developed areas. A bike, quick at hand, gets you away from the noise and congestion to the "outer limits."

Vacationers can taste a cross section of Americana, too, by using several state-sponsored Bikeways — long-distance marked scenic routes over little-trafficked roads. Much planning has gone into Bikeways to take cyclists into the most interesting, scenic or historic areas. The Wisconsin State Bikeway, for instance, takes peddlers through 300 miles of pastoral country with a guide map to geological and geographical curiosities, with visits to cheese factories and detours under foreboding railroad tunnels in the Dairy State.

Ohio offers a vacation bike tour along the verdant farmland inhabited by the conservative "Amish" religious sect, with visits to their harness shops and museums. California cyclists have several Bikeway choices, but one of the most beautiful is along the American River near Sacramento. Dade County, Florida, offers unrestricted cycling on a Bikeway self-guided tour from its palm-fringed beach to inland jungles, and the attraction is heavily promoted by the chamber of commerce for tourists on a budget. Many other states are developing inviting bike-hike vacation trails which will challenge the imagination of the riders, but not their endurance. Many of them are within easy reach of urban centers.

GIFTED ELECTRICS TURN THEM ON . . . SO VERSATILE!

Today's most wanted electric housewares are certain to generate smiles of delight on the face of any lucky bride. Embarking on her new career of housewife, she will be aided in her daily round of housekeeping duties by a variety of automatic servants. Made for speed and convenience, any one of a host of handsome portable appliances makes a perfect wedding gift.

As an example of appropriate gifts, General Electric home economists suggest an automatic coffee maker as a fine choice for a young couple and an automatic slicing knife as a boon to at-home entertaining. Another handy appliance for young newlyweds to have around when guests drop in unexpectedly is an automatic can opener. It will open makings for supper in seconds and makes the bride look like Mrs. Organization.

Every bride loves to receive wedding gifts, especially if it's an item that will help her in her new tasks as homemaker, wife and hostess. Indeed, those who find the "perfect" wedding gift are sure to be remembered well.

For example, one thoughtful giver — recalling the days of her own inexperience — can provide an electric coffee maker made of bright, shining aluminum; no guessing about how to make a perfect brew each morning (and that's a game too many a bride has played!) The smart bride will soon find that this gift is also perfect for serving demi-tasse in the living room after dinner.

A high dome electric skillet is also a happy medium between the pretty and the practical gift. This piece of aluminum cookware, designed to cook anything from chicken to French toast, will especially be appreciated by a bride who hasn't had much cooking experience; automatic heat controls plus aluminum's excellent heat conductivity means recipes are almost foolproof. By setting the temperature and a time, the new homemaker can make a success of her first meal.

Peace Corp Placement Test Set In Abilene

Hamlin area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps

Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 15, at Abilene in Room 2201, New Post Office Building.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test, which takes about an hour and a half, to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The Applicant form, not the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers.

Sons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20255.

12,000 Peace Corps Volunteers are currently serving in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands, working with the people of those nations in self-help projects in agriculture, health, education, and community action. Many more Volunteers are needed for projects which will begin this summer and fall.
